

PART II
Innovative functional and dynamic assessment methods		85
CHAPTER 6
Dynamic assessment of learning processes: Feuerstein's LPAD as a model		87
Jo Lebeer
CHAPTER 7
The Das & Naglieri Cognitive Assessment System – suitable as tool for inclusion?	113
Gunvor Sønnesyn & Jack A. Naglieri
CHAPTER 8
The introduction of the international classification of functioning (icf) in education in Portugal. Consequences for assessment and intervention	127
Adelinda Araujo Candeias, Maria José Saragoça, Luísa Grácio
PART III
From assessment to inclusive coaching	137
CHAPTER 9
From “action- & needs-based assessment” to “action- & needs-based cooperation”	139
Miek Audenaert, Anneleen Denys & Hugo Van de Veire
CHAPTER 10
Educational assessment as a learning process	147
Petri Partanen
CHAPTER 11
Constructing inclusive coaching	153
Beno Schraepen
CHAPTER 12
Conceptual change in school based psychological consultation	165
Ingrid Hylander
CHAPTER 13
The optimal integration of the chronically ill child in mainstream schools: a shared concern	181
Inge Van Trimont & Karel Hoppenbrouwers
CHAPTER 14
Assessing and consulting challenging behaviour in children with autistic spectrum disorder	191
Edit Maior
CHAPTER 15
Mihai's story	199
Cristina Felea

PART IV
Assessing learning within the curriculum		203
CHAPTER 16
Dynamic assessment of learning within curricular subjects; mathematical knowledge	205
Gunvor Sønnesyn
CHAPTER 17
Dynamic assessment & intervention of learning difficulties based on the PASS Reading Enhancement Programme	219
Ana Cristina Rosário, Adelinda Araújo Candeias & Vitor Cruz
CHAPTER 18
Dynamic assessment of students with difficulties in learning and development based on portfolios	227
Adelinda Araújo Candeias, João Silva, Maria José Saragoça, Mónica Rebocho
CHAPTER 19
Learning, risk and protective factors: how to assess to intervene	237
Maria Luísa Grácio & Adelinda Araujo Candeias
PART V
Conclusions and guidelines	247
CHAPTER 20
Guidelines for a dynamic and functional assessment oriented at development and inclusive learning	249
Jo Lebeer & Petri Partanen
References	259
Contributing authors	273
List of Figures	277
Contents of the dvd	278
General information about the DAFFODIL project	286	